As if the famous Nut and historic charm of Stanley isn't enough of an attraction, how does your own private, ecologically designed cabin set among coastal vegetation overlooking the secluded waters and endless beach of West Inlet sound? You have all this, and more, at Beachside Retreat.

Beachside's widely spaced cabins are architectural confections of timber and glass that make the most of their beachfront position (one features a private dune-top spa pool). The two kilometres of sand is perfect for beachcombing, fishing, gathering wild rock oysters or maybe for a pre-dinner walk before being chauffeured to a restaurant in nearby Stanley.

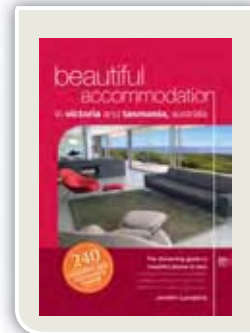

The location is on an operating Maine-Anjou cattle farm, meaning greenery, privacy, and even a nature trail for bird and wallaby watching. Helicopter flights and 4WD tours from the property can be organised. Then it's back to your lodgings for a sunowner (fabulous sunsets are provided gratis) and falling asleep to the sound of lapping waters.

Location: 2½ km south of Stanley. 50 km or 45 minutes from Burnie/Wynyard airport. 125 km or 1½ hours northwest of Devonport. Map 10. HEMA RA 60 C3.

Facilities: Four self-contained cabins: each with kitchen/dining/lounge (TV, stereo), heating, deck; one with outdoor spa pool, some with DVD, AC. One self-contained three-bedroom spa lodge (sleeps five) also available. Disabled facilities. Licensed. Self-catering.
